Mentor-Led Event

A 2-Part Interactive Series with Cecilia Lui: Self-Understanding for Academic & Professional Success

Communication & Cross-Cultural Specialist | Consultant | Trainer
| Coach | Career & Entrepreneurial Advisor | Mentor

Join Cecilia Lui for a 2-part interactive series where she will share how her quest for self-understanding helped her evolve across different disciplines in her 35+ years career. Self-knowledge is information we have on ourselves but self-understanding is making sense and connecting all the dots in our lives...our cultures, our personalities, our interests, our strengths.

In Part 1, Cecilia will share her academic journey of how opting for a university education helped her gain an edge over her peers in a field that traditionally hired college graduates. By the end of the first session, participants will gain clarity on the importance of learning about oneself, developing one's interests and identifying one's strengths for academic and career success. In Part 2, participants will return to share insights on their self-discoveries.
