

netWORKS

"Most people overestimate what they can do in one year and underestimate what they can do in ten years." - Bill Gates

David Jorjani

Entrepreneurial Product & Software Leader |
HR Tech | Educator

- Hometown: Toronto, Ontario (Born in Iran)
- Education:
 - Certificate in Entrepreneurship, Schulich Executive Education Centre, York University
 - Master of Information Systems and Design, University of Toronto
 - Bachelor of Science in IT Engineering, Sharif University of Technology
- Other Work Experience: Instructor at the University of Toronto, Product Manager at Ideal.com, Startup Advisor

MENTOR'S BIO

David Jorjani is a Senior Product Manager at Ideal Computer Software Company with a background in Information Technology Engineering who uses his business acumen and knowledge of Artificial Intelligence (AI) to help companies with talent acquisition. David has been a founding member and advisor of several tech startups in multiple industries. He is passionate about the challenges of growing startups and developing people and teams in addition to building impactful products. His expertise is working with all the stakeholders and leading product development from inception to delivery and currently leads product development at Ideal. David has built and led software engineering teams, developing products used across the globe. As an Instructor at the University of Toronto, David has taught Software Engineering, Software Design, and Digital Business Strategies. Further, throughout his time teaching, David has brought his love of personal and professional development by initiating a partnership program to help students learn better and do well while learning, touching many lives. David strongly believes in the value of mentorship both as a mentor and a mentee.