MENTOR'S BIO

Jillian is a Project Manager at the Royal Bank of Canada (RBC) within the Transformation & Enterprise Operations organization. Jillian's projects focus on improving RBC processes and finance automations. The team is constantly looking for new opportunities to work smarter and alleviate pain points across the department. Jillian is also passionate about working with students and getting them interested in technology. She Co-Chairs her department's Student Program, working to support and enrich students' RBC Co-Op experience. Jillian enjoys developing meaningful relationships with others to build influence and impact with key partners across projects.

Jillian holds an Honors Bachelors of Science from the University of Toronto, a Certified Scrum Master certification, and is working towards a Human Resources Certificate from the University of Toronto's School of Continuing Studies. In her spare time, Jillian works with a Toronto animal rescue organization as both an in-person volunteer and as a foster.

Jillian's motto is: "Learn, Unlearn, and then Relearn"
